

2026 Artificial Insemination Terms and Conditions

Mare Health

CEM - All mares covered naturally in 2024 or 2025 must have a negative swab for CEM (contagious equine metritis) taken after 1 January 2026. This may be taken before arrival or at the AI centre.

EVA - All mares imported from abroad must have a negative blood test for EVA (equine viral arteritis) before arrival. Mares that have not left the UK do not require testing, although we reserve the right to request testing where we feel it is appropriate.

Passports – All mares should travel with their passport, which will be retained at the stud during boarding. Up to date flu and tetanus vaccination is advisable.

Worming – Mares and foals will be wormed according to the stud worming programme.

Farrier – All mares should have their back shoes removed before arriving at the stud. Mares and foals feet will be trimmed as necessary and owners charged accordingly.

Veterinary Treatment

Pregnancy Scanning – All mares should have a first pregnancy scan around the fourteenth to seventeenth day following insemination. This time interval is important to allow a greater success in twin reduction should two pregnancies be identified. A second scan to confirm pregnancy, obtain a heartbeat and recheck for twins is strongly advised. This should be performed approximately two weeks after the first.

In Foal Fee – An in foal fee of £160 plus vat is payable on all mares leaving Brackenspa Stud in foal to chilled or frozen semen. If a mare leaves without a pregnancy scan she will be assumed to be in foal and the fee will be charged. If she is subsequently found to be not in foal before 1st October 2026, and this is confirmed by a vet's certificate, the fee will be refunded.

Veterinary Treatment – Tower Equine Veterinary Surgeons reserves the right to provide any veterinary treatment they consider necessary for the welfare of mare and foal and to charge owners accordingly. In the event of an emergency we will attempt to contact the owner prior to treatment, but if this is not possible we will administer the treatment we consider most appropriate.

Payment – Veterinary fees for all fixed price packages are payable per cycle in advance. Please complete the following with your card details:
